

I fully support diversity among the media. Conglomerates and cross ownership of media in a market stifle the diversity of opinion. For example, the intentions of Sinclair to force their stations to substitute an anti-Kerry program seems to me to constitute an abridgment of FCC rules regarding programming balance. Where the FCC has permitted duopoly to occur once again (as in Baltimore) diversity is reduced.